Akeley Allotments Report March 2010

Another wet summer and a few untidy allotments due to not being the best of growing years.

All seems to be ticking over nicely and a couple of allotments are about to change hands. One allotment in particular has not been tended but the holder assures me that when the weather improves she will be back on it, I have informed her that I have had complaints and that I will expect some work to be done before renewal next month.

There are no names on the waiting list at present but one of those about to change hands is being shared so if someone does not renew next month I will have a taker and will not need to advertise.

I will be sending the renewal letter out by the end of the month in order to get the payments in on time. I also think that we should consider putting the rent up next year – giving everyone a year's notice – I suggest £2.50 per allotment that would mean the smallest would go up from £7.50 to £10 a year from April 2011 – still very reasonable.
